

Alessandra Ramorino

Chief Risk and Internal Audit Officer

Alessandra Ramorino is an executive with almost 30 years of experience in the automotive components sector at Brembo, world leader in the field of automotive brake system technology.

She holds a Business degree from the University of Bergamo, Italy, an MBA from ISTUD, Italy, and the international Certification in Risk Management Assurance (CRMA) for internal auditors.

Ms. Ramorino helped Brembo grow from a medium-sized Italian company into a complex multinational group. She started her career in the Corporate Affairs Office before being appointed Financial Controller of North America and later International Finance Manager, responsible for the integration of the accounting processes and systems of diverse acquired companies. She also spent several years in Brazil, Mexico, and Poland as CFO of these acquired companies.

In 2007 she was asked to structure and direct the Internal Audit Function, reporting to the Chairman of the company and leading a team of people based in Europe, Asia, and the US. In 2018 she was appointed Chief Internal Audit Officer, a role that she held until 2021. She was also a member of the company's Supervisory Committee for several years.

Alessandra Ramorino joined Iveco Group 1st April 2022 and is Chief Risk and Internal Audit Officer.
